

Tender Heart – Back to School – July 2010

In April 2009 the first 50 Dalit Children received Note Books and School Bags. These were all of a good quality so that they will last for a long time. We encouraged the children to work hard at their education. The wife of a local pastor helped us with the distribution.

We then had two days of a Holiday Bible school where they learned about Jesus. For two days we taught them songs and told them stories. It was really blessing to us and also to the Children who came. Also we took them for a picnic.

Many of the parents told us that it was wonderful to have a program like this and told us that no one cares about them. We took this opportunity to tell them that we are doing because of Jesus and that to Jesus they were special. Nobody had ever told them that before! Before we gave Bags and Note Books, we asked all the Children pray for AMEN. We asked them to repeat prayers after us.

Since that modest start over 240 children have been helped to go "Back to School" and we have also run several more Holiday Bible schools.

Thank you for making difference

Francis and Alison
